

Meet Your Master of Ceremonies

Travis Thomas is a dedicated educator, entrepreneur, and community leader with a passion for adult education and entertainment. He is the Owner and Lead Entertainer of Thomas Media Solutions, a premier event production and entertainment company known for creating unforgettable experiences.

Travis is an experienced audio/video engineer with a Bachelor's Degree in Music Business and a Master's Degree in Business Administration. Travis brings over 20 years of industry experience as both an entertainer and audio/video engineer to provide the best possible experience to our area clients.

In the field of education, Travis serves as the Adult General Education Supervisor at Flagler Technical College, where he oversees programs designed to support adult learners in achieving their educational and career goals. His commitment to adult education extends beyond his local community, as he is a board member for ACE of Florida (Association of Adult & Community Educators) and a board member and current president of FATDEC (Florida Adult and Technical Distance Education Consortium), advocating for the advancement of adult and technical education across the state.

Additionally, Travis contributes his expertise as a member of the Florida Department of Education Adult Assessment Advisory Committee, helping to shape policies and best practices for adult education assessments statewide. He is also a contributing member of several professional organizations, including the Coalition on Adult Basic Education \(COABE\), the Florida Institute for the Professional Development of Adult Educators, the Flagler Tiger Bay Club, and the Elks Lodge, further demonstrating his commitment to community engagement and professional development.

With a unique blend of leadership, creativity, and a passion for lifelong learning, Travis continues to make a significant impact in both education and entertainment.

